After too many nights in front of mixing desks and computer screens, time to celebrate has come:

After-Dinner invites to their first Label Party:
a night packed with electronic live performances by After-Dinner artists.

We offer the opportunity to listen to loads of new music, catch up, network and (hopefully) have a little dance.

On the programme are live sets by Dub KULT, Ekkohaus, J-Lab, Reporter and Room 237 - exploring the genres of electronica, techno, house, electro, breaks, glitch, all in a minimal fashion.

The night is hosted by Alex Fisher and The Growler, who will spin a few uplifting tunes between the sets.

The party will kick off 8pm sharp, entry is free 4 all.

About After-Dinner Recordings:

The London based (Inter)netlabel releases electronic music online and encourages free exchange between consumer and producer.

For DJs and home listeners, After-Dinner is a source for new and exciting electronic music. Tunes range from ambient to dance music and are set within the genres of electronica, techno, house, electro, breaks, glitch - in a wider sense.

For music producers, the netlabel serves as a vital platform to promote their work in a non-commercial environment, giving room for creative freedom and experiments.
